

HERRIN AGAIN UNDER MILITARY RULE

ANDERSON IS OUT OF DRY LEAGUE

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE LEADER
TO GO TO PEN

Sentenced to From One to
Two Years in Sing

Gloversville, N. Y., Feb. 9.—William H. Anderson, dry leader, sentenced yesterday in New York City for from one to two years in Sing Sing for forgery, has resigned his position as state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, it was stated here today by Rev. William C. Spicer, vice president of the organization.

Rev. Spicer said that Anderson had tendered his resignation at a meeting of the board of directors held in New York City February 5 and that it had been accepted.

New York, Feb. 9.—William H. Anderson was sentenced to Sing Sing prison from one to two years for third degree forgery in falsifying the books of the state Anti-Saloon League of which he is superintendent, unless his conviction by a jury on Jan. 29 is reversed on appeal.

In imposing sentence Supreme Court Justice Tompkins said "this crime was deliberately committed and aggravated by some of his testimony which was obviously untrue."

The sentence followed an impassioned plea for clemency by former Governor Charles S. Whitman, Anderson's chief counsel, and an appeal by Ferdinand Pecora, assistant district attorney, that the punishment "be such as to satisfy the public that justice has been done and that the law is no respecter of persons."

Anderson was freed in $5000 bail on a stay of execution to permit Whitman to seek a certificate of reasonable doubt which the trial court refused to grant. Arguments for a certificate will be heard by the court on Feb. 15.

As he left the courtroom Anderson was served with papers in a $105,000 libel suit brought against the league, of which he still is superintendent, by Francis Cortwright of Corning, N. Y., who has accused the league of having libeled him in literature distributed throughout the district in which he was a candidate for the state assembly in 1922.

Justice Tompkins recalled that Anderson was found guilty of forgery in the third degree on an indictment alleging he had falsified the books of the league by transferring the sum of $4000 from the salary account of C. Bertall Phillips, a fund collector, to Phillips' expense account. At the outset the court remarked that suspended sentence was customary where a defendant had confessed and said he was sorry, and when boys committed crimes.

"But this is not such a case," declared the court. "This crime was deliberately committed. After the defendant's attention had been called to the fact that Phillips' salary account had been improperly charged, some days elapsed before the alteration was made. He has not confessed and he did not plead guilty. He stood trial and was convicted. His case is further aggravated by some of his testimony, which was obviously untrue."

Herrin has moved back to her Silesian estate and the household goods already are divided. There is no divorce, but a complete separation, except in the face of the world. To maintain appearance, Hermine went to Doorn on the occasion of the former Kaiser's birthday, but returned immediately to Silesia. Previously she has not been to Doorn for weeks.

The cause of the separation is believed to have been Hermine's children, with whom the Kaiser did not accord. Hermine arrived at the point of choosing between her children and the Kaiser, and chose the children.

The excuse for Hermine's continued absence is the necessity of maintaining her Silesian residence on account of tax problems. The Kaiser's children are on better terms with their father since the separation.

APPEAL IS ANSWERED

Manila, Feb. 9.—Responding to the urgent request of the governor, a company of constabulary was proceeding to the island of Leyte, where the people of the southern portion are panic stricken on account of large bands of colorado fanatics who are reported operating near Malibog and Seged.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The weather bureau today issued the following for next week: "Considerable cloudiness and occasional rains or snows; frequent alterations in temperature."

NEW SENSATIONS PROMISED IN OIL
LEASE INVESTIGATION IN SENATE

Washington, Feb. 9.—Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post, heatedly denied before the Senate public lands committee today that Harry F. Sinclair had bought him off for $1,000,000 not to publish attacks upon the oil men for leasing Teapot Dome.

The denial came during a spirited verbal exchange between Bonfils and Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, chairman in which Lenroot rising to his feet, and shaking his finger at the publisher, asked:

"Is it not true that the contract you made with Sinclair whereby he paid you for $250,000 for claims in Teapot Dome was not based upon any legal validity but upon the silence of your paper not to reveal facts you had in your possession, showing fraud and graft in the Teapot Dome leases?"

"It is not true," Bonfils replied heatedly.

Bonfils was drawn into a discussion of policy and influence of the post, in which he said the Post covers the whole Rocky Mountain region and has a circulation larger than any paper in Washington.

"Did Sinclair know that?" interjected Lenroot.

Lenroot then quizzed Bonfils about his private life and history.

Washington, Feb. 9.—New sensations were promised today as additional attacks were launched in the Senate upon the leasing of naval oil reserves to private interests.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Attorney General Daugherty, who left two weeks ago for an indefinite visit to Florida, is expected to return to Washington late today.

His decision to come to the capital has led to many rumors, but all efforts to establish the reason for his return have been unsuccessful.

At the Department of Justice, where it was said when he left that he would be absent several weeks unless urgent business prevented, officials declared that they were in complete ignorance as to his intentions.

A question at the White House as to whether Mr. Daugherty had been summoned by the president brought the reply that the attorney general was making his own plans; that he had taken a certain amount of work to Florida with him, which he now had completed; and that he apparently was returning here to busy himself with other matters.

One of the rumors current during the day was that he was on his way here to lay his resignation before Mr. Coolidge. There was no confirmation in any quarters. White House officials declared that if the resignation of any cabinet members was imminent the president was unaware of it.

Another report was that the attorney general had been asked to come here to take charge of the inquiry into the gasoline situation. On that question, also, department of justice officials declared they had no information.

Mr. Daugherty himself has declined pending his arrival to make any statement as to his reason for making the trip here from Florida, except to say that it is the course of his duties.

Nebraska, pioneer in lethal gas executions, stood virtually alone today as an advocate of the new method of exacting the life penalty from condemned criminals. Opinions gathered by International News Service from governors and high state officials throughout the country show no disposition in other states to follow in the path Nevada blazed yesterday when Gee Jon, Chinese tong slayer, was gassed to death.

Not even Nevada's own executive Governor Scrugham, approved it. "I did not witness it and will not commit upon its success," said the Governor of Nevada. "The warden will render an official report in a day or so and I shall be guided largely by my opinion by his report. But it is entirely probable I shall have nothing to say even after receiving the report."

Governor Scrugham has been reported opposed to the lethal gas execution adopted by his state. He appeared depressed today following reports.

Pittsburgh, Penn., February 9.—Patrick J. Coyne, former railroad brakeman, occupying a wheel chair, calmly received the verdict, which carries a sentence of 10 to 20 years imprisonment.

Relatives of Mrs. Coyne found her body in the Coyne home last July 18, and when they went to the railroad yards to inform Coyne of her death they learned that he had fallen under a train.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The Senate itself, meeting an hour earlier than usual, was split with an acrimonious debate upon the resolution demanding immediate resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby from the Coolidge cabinet.

William G. McAdoo, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the president, who was granted permission by the committee to appear today and tell of his employment by F. L. Doheny, lessee of the Elk Hills reserve, was notified not to come to the capitol until Monday. The committee planned to hear only Bonfils today in order to allow its members to participate in the Denby debate on the floor.

In addition to Bonfils, the committee also had before it the nomination of Silas H. Strawn and Alcee Pomerene, as special counsel to prosecute the government's oil case. A heated fight, led by Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, was expected against the appointments.

At the White House, it was learned that President Coolidge has instructed the special counsel to institute injunction suits to prevent further extraction of oil from the naval reserves early next week, dependent however, upon the action the Senate takes on the nominations of Strawn and Pomerene. Administration senators have told the White House that the nominations will be approved, despite the known antagonism of certain Democrats and insurgent Republicans to the appointments.

As the Senate went back to the debate on the Denby ouster resolution, indications were that the measure would be adopted by a fair margin, possibly before adjournment tonight. Leaders of both sides agreed to hold the Senate in session to force a vote today if possible.

Democrats were relentless in their denunciation of Denby. Administration Republicans agreed that the Senate was without exceptional authority to pass the resolution and urged that the secretary be given a fair and proper trial.

DAUGHERTY RETURNING TO CAPITAL
CAUSES CONSIDERABLE COMMENT

MILITIA IS ORDERED TO MINING TOWN FOLLOWING
OUTBREAK AND VIOLENCE

Dry Raider Killed, Deputy Sheriff Wounded and Three Policemen Kidnaped Friday Night
During Trouble.

Herrin, Ills., Feb. 9.—Eight heavily armed men, led by Ora Thomas, said to be a member of the St. Louis "Egan Rats" today were barricaded in the Herrin Hospital, which was surrounded by members of Company K, 130th Illinois National Guard, determined to resist all attempts to place them under arrest on a charge of shooting to death Constable Caesar Cagle last night, according to S. Glenn Young, leader of recent lynch raids in the county and who early today laid siege to the hospital with a party of klanmen until the troops arrived.

Patrolman Frank Stephens, kidnapped yesterday with Chief of Police Ford and Assistant Chief Grain, returned to Herrin today and told a story of how he and his companion officers had been shanghaied, thrown into an automobile by Sheriff George Galligan and several deputies and driven out of town.

Stephens was badly battered and claimed that the sheriff and deputies had beaten him up.

More than 75 shots were exchanged between the men in the hospital and the besiegers early today, Young declared.

When national guard troops arrived they surrounded the hospital and allowed no one to leave or enter. Young charged the killing of Constable Cagle, whom he termed an efficient, law-enforcing officer, was most cold blooded murder. Cagle was summoned to come to town and was shot down from ambush, Young said. In the melee that followed John Layman was shot by mistake.

Troops of six national guard companies ordered to Herrin again to place this little mining town and center of sudden and deadly trouble under military rule were arriving early today.

The outbreak in Williamson County, which again has divided the district into sharply hostile camps, climaxed last night with the slaying of Constable Caesar Cagle, klan leader and dry raider, the serious wounding of Deputy Sheriff John Layman and the kidnapping of three Herrin policemen—John Ford, Assistant Chief Grain and Frank Stephens. The trouble started, according to reports with a police attempt to break up an anti-klan meeting.

Members of the police force engaged in the raid and the subsequent shooting have been rushed out of the county according to Sheriff George Galligan, who said their lynching was feared.

The sheriff and Deputy Layman were attending a meeting at the Rome Club, where, according to Galligan, he was attempting to stop a threatened outbreak against reformers.

Herrin police were rushed to the meeting, the sheriff said. Deputy Layman was shot and seriously wounded when he protested. Constable Caesar Cagle was in front of the Jefferson Hotel, according to the sheriff's account, when a crowd of men rushed up on him, firing. He fell dead.

Cagle was prominently identified with the klan and had figured in a sensational series of raids led by S. Glenn Young, klan raider, whose activities among foreign born residents of Williamson County led to a protest to Ambassador Jussaraud at Washington, asking protection for French citizens whose homes, it was charged, have been wantonly despoiled by raiders under guise of search for liquor.

Sheriff Galligan, whose protest to Governor Small led to ordering of state troops a month ago, again asked for military protection. Governor Small ordered Adjutant General Black of Springfield, to rush all necessary guardsmen to Herrin.

The appointment of policemen in Herrin to further reform movement in the fervid little town was brought about as one of the conditions of removal of state troops sent into Williamson County following trouble growing out of wholesale dry raids several weeks ago.

Herrin was the scene of the killing of a score of miners during strike troubles two years ago. Clashes between dry officers, klanmen, who volunteered as assistants and residents, whose homes were raided, were the basis of the recent troubles.

Carbondale, Ills., Feb. 9.—Sheriff George Galligan of Williamson county, was arrested here at noon today on a state warrant served by S. Glenn Young, klan leader, charging the sheriff with complicity in the death of Constable Caesar Cagle at Herrin last night.

Young charged the killing of Constable Cagle, whom he termed an efficient, law-enforcing officer, was most cold blooded murder. Cagle was summoned to come to town and was shot down from ambush, Young said. In the melee that followed John Layman was shot by mistake.

SLENDER THREAD
HELD BY POLICE
IN GIRL MURDER.

Seek Man Alleged to Have
Slain Young Texas
Woman.

New York, Feb. 9.—Police today held one slender thread by which they hoped to unravel the tangled skein of mystery shrouding the murder of beautiful, blonde, Louisa Lawson, golden butterfly and music student of Texas. The man, who killed her was "a friend," Detective Inspector John D. Coughlin declared—one of the many men who danced about the flame of her charm in the six years since she came from Walnut Springs, Texas, hopeful and ambitious.

In a corner of her Bijou apartment Coughlin found the kit bag she had carried to New York. It like everything else in the place, had been ransacked. Her jewels, $12,000 in stock certificates in the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company and her cash, were missing.

Despite this apparent robbery Coughlin today expressed doubt that theft furnished the motive for the crime. Coughlin grizzled veteran of the "Dot King case," and almost countless Broadway girl murders, believed he knew the name of the slayer. Coughlin's theory was based on the statement of Peggy Tompkins, friend of Miss Lawson, and resident of the adjoining apartment.

"I was awake yesterday morning about eight o'clock—just lying in bed," Miss Tompkins told Coughlin. "I heard a rapping on Miss Lawson's door."

"Who is it?" I heard her call. "A voice answered 'the express man.'"

Miss Tompkins told Coughlin the name of the man she believed rapped on Miss Lawson's door.

"I heard Miss Lawson call out: 'Oh, you can't come in now—I'm not dressed.' The man protested.

"I can't wait," he said. Then I heard the door open and after that all was quiet. I think I recognized the voice," Miss Tompkins said.

"There were many male visitors to Miss Lawson's apartment, police said. Gerhard M. Dahl, chairman of the board of directors of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company, whose wife is wintering in Palm Beach, Florida, was a frequent visitor. His friendship, he told detectives, who questioned him, was platonic. He was interested in Miss Lawson's ambitions—music, and a dream that some day she might become a motion picture actress.

Dahl's last visit to Miss Lawson's apartment was Wednesday night, he told police. Warner Jones, official of the Braden Copper Company, accompanied him. There was another girl in the party. The four, police said, played mah jongg a while and then talked.

COOLIDGE CLUB IN ELYRIA IS FORMED

Elyria, O., Feb. 9.—With a charter membership of approximately a thousand, the Lorain County Coolidge-for-president club, was formed here last night with George H. Chamberlain as president. Plans were laid for a systematic canvass of the county for membership.

Arthur L. Garford, Elyria manufacturer and former prominent progressive, was unanimously endorsed by the club as a Coolidge delegate to the Republican national convention in June.

XENIA IS CREDITED WITH HAVING ONLY SUCCESSFUL P.T.A. IN STATE OF OHIO

Thirty-five members of the "only successful High School Parent-Teacher Association in the state of Ohio," met at Central High School auditorium, Friday afternoon, for the usual business meeting and program. Xenia's organization won the above distinction at the state P. T. A. meeting, recently, and it was voiced by the state P. T. A. president, in a letter to the officers of the local association. Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton cities have not maintained the high standard set by the Xenia organization, and "the eyes of the state are on Xenia, and its progress," to quote the state officer.

A letter was read at the meeting Friday, from a committee of girls representing the high school girl student body, thanking the association for furnishing the girls' rest room at the school, and for the interest taken by the parents and teachers. A letter from Harper C. Pendry, principal of the school, was read, in which he expressed the appreciation of the school officials, for the work of the organization, and commended the association on its work. Mr. Pendry suggested to the women that they take charge of fitting up the boy's rest room, and it was decided to cooperate with the manual training department in the project. The boys of that department will make the furniture for the rest room, from material supplied by the association. Mrs. W. L. Miller is chairman of a committee that will cooperate with V. L. Faures, manual training instructor.

Miss Jean B. Elwell, former Central High School teacher, was made an honorary member of the association. It was voted at the meeting. Fifteen members of the organization attended school under Miss Elwell's tutelage.

HAWAIIAN CANNERY JAPANESE PROJECT

Honolulu, Feb. 9—Further efforts at "peaceful penetration" by Japanese in this territory are being promoted by the Kona Japanese Development Company of the island of Hawaii, who have plans for engaging in the pineapple industry in the "Kona" or leeward portion of the island on a large scale.

The Japanese plan to erect a cannery, probably at Kailua, Hawaii, where the territory is planning shortly to build a larger wharf. The canned pines can be loaded here by freighters and taken directly to the mainland. It is reported that the company has $200,000 subscribed for the project. Commenting on the undertaking, one of the local Japanese dailies say:

"On Oahu a large number of Japanese are engaged in the pineapple industry, but they are not reaping big profits, because they do not own any factory, and they have to send their fruit to the larger companies. Bigger profits are made by big factories. Nearly one-half of Waiakua Plantation (Oahu) is pineapple fields today. Large areas are being opened up on Molokai, Lanai and Maui, and Japanese laborers are steadily going into these islands. Up to last year America was the only market for Hawaiian pines. But this year markets are being opened up in Canada and Australia. When European countries are restored to normal condition Hawaiian pineapples will surely obtain a larger market than today's. Considering all these facts, the pineapple industry is becoming larger than sugar, and Japanese should go into it."

DISEASE RAVAGES BRITISH LIVESTOCK

London, Feb. 9—The English livestock industry is seriously threatened by an outbreak of the foot and mouth disease.

The Government has adopted a policy of slaughtering in districts where the disease is spreading in order to check the spread of the disease, and wholesale killing has taken place.

The total slaughterings which have taken place are:

Cattle	36,516
Sheep	16,991
Pigs	19,961
Goats	37

Compensations is given by the Government to the owners of the slaughtered cattle, and this far the British Government has spent nearly $6,000,000 for this purpose.

The situation has become so serious that it has been necessary to close golf courses where sheep have become affected by the disease, and the newspapers are even conjecturing whether or not this disease of cattle may not be transferred to humans.

Vernon Hartshorn has been named Postmaster General in the new Labor Cabinet formed in London by Ramsay MacDonald.

Zangwill Finds Some Good in America.

Israel Zangwill

Israel Zangwill, noted British author, whose strictures on America and everything American aroused considerable comment when he first came to the United States, has sailed from New York for Europe. During his sojourn here he softened somewhat, for he found two or three things in America he could praise ever so faintly.

Styles BY LENORE

What's wrong with this picture? A rather large woman standing beside me while shopping the other morning, had on a heavy twill dress with which she wore a slender strand of seed pearls. And this picture? At the theater a few evenings ago, a fair young thing (and oh, she was pretty!) wore a choker collar of large amber beads with a delicate pink evening frock.

Of course you know the answer. Both instances show poor taste as to the kind of beads to be worn with each kind of dress. A heavy bead choker is more suitable for daytime wear, and is more adapted, because of its weight, to a cloth or dark silk dress. The same standard of artistic values dictates that seed pearls are too delicate for a heavy dress, and more becoming to a small slender woman. All of which emphasizes the importance of carefully chosen details for smart and effective dressing.

Speaking of beads, novel shapes are now more fashionable than round beads. There are the melon, cube, flat, square and oblong shapes, and necklaces run about 40 inches long. One of the novelties is a festoon necklace, with about three strands, the center strand frequently in a contrasting color. In bracelets, the flexible type in two or three rows, are prominently featured. In the sketch there is a chain link effect, with earrings to match. Since long sleeves have been the vogue, many French women have been wearing their bracelets over the sleeve.

EAST END NEWS

Class No. 3 of the Zion Baptist Sunday School will meet with Mrs. Viola Hubbard, of East Church Street, Sunday afternoon, instead of with Mrs. Estridge, as was announced.

Mrs. Oscar Jones of East Church Street, was called to Springfield on account of the illness of a relative there.

Mrs. E. J. Ellison left Saturday morning for Piqua to be the guest of her sister and brother-in-law over Sunday.

Rev. G. W. Becton, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, will arrive home Saturday from Springfield, Ill., where he has been conducting a revival service.

Mrs. Robert Johnson and baby son of Evans have returned from a seven-weeks' visit in the South with relatives and friends. They were accompanied home by her sister Mrs. Lillie B. Thomas.

ARE YOU DISOBEYING THE LAW?

The preceding arguments which have been advanced in this educational series to induce "Buying in Xenia" have been sound, logical and convincing. Those who have read the appeals probably need no further persuasion but there is at least one other outstanding incentive that should actuate us to spend where we make. It is:

"Self Preservation"

THE FIRST LAW OF NATURE

The practice of earning money in one locality and spending it in another breaks the very fundamental law of Economics.

Scientists assure us that when minerals are burned, such as coal, gas, oil, etc., the component parts are disseminated but natural propagation ensues for the carbon goes into the air, is absorbed through foliage and returned to earth where it again begins its formation of the necessary natural commodities for the comfort and development of our prosperity. This is concrete example of the law of Compensating Returns, and this law just as surely applies to the economic structure of a community.

If we spend where we earn, the source of supply is continually replenished—but if our wages are diverted into outside channels, the problem of maintaining the economic balance can not possibly be solved. Property values increase only as a community prospers. A community is enriched when the trade balance is on the right side of the ledger. When we buy in Xenia we help maintain that balance and the value of our home, our business, and our job is materially enhanced.

Why build up the "other fellow's" town? Why make his real estate more valuable? Why provide his business with more credit? Why make his job more secure?

Buying in Xenia assures these privileges for us; after all isn't it a case of

ANNUAL "BUCKEYE" PARTY AT WASHINGTON

The Ohio Society meeting last week at Rauscher's at Washington, D. C., was the outstanding event of the season for the Buckeye colony in Washington. Nearly six hundred persons were there, making the largest crowd ever attending a meeting of the Ohio society which by the way, is by far the largest state society in the national capital. President Coolidge, carrying out a promise made by the late President Harding, was present and made a speech eulogizing Mr. Harding and other Ohio presidents, including the martyred McKinley, whose birthday anniversary was the occasion for the gathering.

The presence of President Coolidge was a marked tribute, since he has steadfastly declined urgent invitations to attend the state society gatherings including those of his own Massachusetts, on the ground that if he went to one he would have to go to all.

Needless to say, the late Ohio president was in the minds of everyone at Rauscher's on last Tuesday evening, as well as Mrs. Florence King Harding who, still in seclusion with her mourning, sent a note, which was read to the assembled Ohioans, expressing her regrets that she was unable to be with them. The tribute which Mr. Coolidge paid to the late President Harding was a beautiful one and deeply touched all who heard it.

Many new acquaintanceships promising delightful friendships in the future were formed by Buckeye natives at the society meeting. Nearly all Ohioans who are permanently or temporarily domiciled in the National Capital were present and as the result the whole colony got much better acquainted. Above all the occasion served to bring out the Buckeye nativity of a great many prominent persons in Washington who heretofore have been strangers to the Ohio society gatherings, and the alert membership committee made the most out of its opportunity, with the result that more representatives and better attended meetings are expected in the future.

Chief Justice William Howard Taft, president of the society, presided, and introduced President and Mrs. Coolidge when they arrived at 9 o'clock. The Coolidges found many intimate friends in the hall and spent quite a time chatting with various groups before Mr. Coolidge made his address, after which they at once returned to the White House. After the Coolidges departed, dancing started and a series of vocal selections were rendered by the talented Gretchen Hood, who by this time is a quite familiar and popular entertainer in Buckeye circles at the capital. Along toward the close of the dance program a buffet supper was served.

CARD CLUB IS ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spahr entertained the members of their card club, at their home on East Third Street, Thursday evening. Five hundred was played during the evening at four tables. The prize winners were Mrs. J. E. Kohl, Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mr. John Apgar, and Mr. J. L. Dunlap. Arrangements were made for the club to form a dancing party at the Greystone, Dayton, next Thursday evening.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE PARTY, GIVEN THURSDAY

The quaint custom of St. Valentine's Day was effectively carried out in the appointments of the luncheon bridge by Mrs. Charles A. Weaver, at her home on West Market Street, Thursday afternoon. Bridge was played at three tables following the one o'clock menu. Mrs. Nelle Schuster, and Mrs. J. D. Steele, won the score prizes.

REBEKAH LODGE TO GIVE CLEVER PLAY

Members of Phoenix Rebekah Lodge, are rehearsing for a clever three-act comedy, entitled "Aaron Slick from Punkinrick" to be presented at the I. O. O. F. Hall, February 20, Wednesday evening.

The play as it progresses shows how the farmer "got ahead" of the city "dudes" and is said to be positive proof that all the "hayseeds" are not in the country.

The proceeds of the offering will be forwarded to the I. O. O. F. Home, Springfield. Tickets will be 25 cents, and may be procured at the Katz and Richards Store, or from any of the lodge members.

LOCAL SOCIETY TO BE ENTERTAINED TUESDAY

Members of the Queen Esther Society of Trinity M. E. Church, will be entertained at dinner by the Cedarville Queen Esther Society, at the Cedarville Methodist Church, Tuesday evening at six o'clock. The affair will be in return for a party held by the local society for the Cedarville girls several weeks ago.

Mrs. F. F. Moffett, of Piqua, district secretary of Young People's work, will give the talk of the evening.

The girls planning to attend the dinner are asked to meet at the interurban station Tuesday evening at 5:15 o'clock. Arrangements have been made to transport them to Cedarville.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED AT CLUB MEETING THURSDAY

The former officers of Pride of Xenia Thimble Club were re-elected at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Marion Kester, on Cincinnati avenue, Friday afternoon. They were Mrs. Alice Smith, president; Mrs. Flora Horner, vice-president; Mrs. Clara Ary, secretary, and Mrs. Rosa Reese, treasurer.

The club members spent the afternoon knotting a comforter. A luncheon course was served by Mrs. Kester. Fourteen members and one visitor were present.

OBEDIENT CLUB ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

Members of Obedient Thimble Club, were entertained by Mrs. Stacey Copey and Mrs. F. R. Corwin, at their home on South Detroit Street, Thursday afternoon.

The regular business meeting was held, and at the close a delicious luncheon course was served, with Valentine appointments.

Mrs. Thomas Ralls will entertain the club members in two weeks.

JUNIOR P. T. A. MEETING

The Parent-Teacher Association of Junior High school is still continuing its membership drive, and a meeting will be held to discuss the drive Monday afternoon at three o'clock, in Miss Harper's home room. Each member of the organization is asked to invite one new member to the meeting. A social hour will be enjoyed, in charge of the committee of which Mrs. John W. Prugh is chairman.

SOCIAL FOLLOWS MEETING

The social committee of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, O. E. S., will hold a program and social time, at the lodge hall, after the regular meeting, Tuesday evening. Refreshments will be served.

SOCIAL TIME AT LODGE

Between sixty-five and seventy members of Phoenix Rebekah Lodge, enjoyed an oyster supper at the lodge hall, after the regular lodge meeting, Thursday night. Readings were enjoyed, and an informal time spent.

It's Hot Stuff—Number "56"!

You're getting warm—warmer—warmest on luck's train when you move in the direction of "56."

Because it's no other than Classification 56, "Fuel, Feed, Fertilizers," in the A-B-C Classified Section.

Coal, coke and wood—now's the time to make sure of heat in plenty for the rest of this winter and as much of next as you can prepare for.

It's downright lucky to be able to tell at a glance just where to get the fuel you want—at the price that's nearest to what you want to pay.

Warm up to "56"—it'll save you worry and cash!

President Cooper testified that if the proposed increase of three cents per message is granted, the company's income will be increased $345,688, the additional revenue yielding the company's net return of 2.62 per cent on a property value of $22,502,000. Cooper said the company's net return now is 1.09 per cent.

Total revenue to be derived from long distance service, if the increase is granted, will approximate $4,109,583, while expenses will total $3,850,000, Cooper told the commission. Walter G. Schneider, valuation engineer for the company, testified that the company's long distance property is valued at over $22,500,000.

LIQUIDATION AN EXPERIMENT

If Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff does take the place of the dead Lenin, if he is as much of a "Moderate" as his record indicates and he is not dragged down by hard-bitten Reds of the Extreme Left, the Russian trend of the last two years may be hastened. That swing has been back toward what the true Communist damns as "Capitalism." Lenin himself had yielded to the logic of events and forced too strong even for his fanatical leadership and undoubted strength. With Lenin, Rykoff came to see that raw Communism was a failure and the Great Experiment must be liquidated. He has emerged from the background, where he had been shoved by the "strong men" of the Reds. As much as anything can be hopeful for the future of a country that has been sick nigh unto death, the emergence of a man like Rykoff is hopeful.

THE POLITICAL BREEZES OF 1924

Many of the calculations made by political prognosticators in the United States have been upset by recent happenings more or less unrelated to politics. The result is that new bearings are being taken in an effort to meet unlooked-for emergencies. Impartially analyzed, the facts seem to indicate a tendency, more apparent now than perhaps ever before in the history of the country, to disregard established partisan lines. There is lacking that adhesion, even in the organization of the party in power, which has usually solidified the ranks of both the major parties on the eve of a presidential election. Insurgency is rife, despite what has been regarded as an almost unanimous approval of the course of President Coolidge since his accession and the general belief that his nomination would be virtually uncontested.

Indeed the opposition to the nomination of Mr. Coolidge probably will not manifest itself openly in the Republican convention when it meets in Chicago. It will take form, apparently, in an effort by the so-called progressive element in the party to name an independent candidate, thus precipitating a condition similar to that created in 1912, when the revolt of the Roosevelt faction resulted in the defeat of President Taft and the election of Woodrow Wilson. But what was denominated progressivism in 1912, is this year more properly designated as radicalism. The term seems much more fitting. The effort will not be so much to unite in this movement, those who, thought calling themselves Republicans, are not, but to rally under the banner of pink radicalism all those of whatever former affiliation, whether moderate Socialists, Farmer-Laborites, or what not, with as many disgruntled Democrats as will find in the doctrines of the extremists a promise of class or bloc domination.

THE CANAL'S DEFENSES

Ten years ago we opened the Panama Canal. For generations we had talked of it as a military necessity. We talked of little else in the anxious days of 1898 when the Oregon was straining her engines around the Cape of Storms and up the Atlantic.

In the end we built the canal at a cost of ruffled relations with some of our Latin-American neighbors and a large number of millions of dollars. In 1917-18 it was a source of supreme satisfaction. It saved days when lost days meant lost lives and might have meant defeat. There was no thought then of ever letting its defenses be endangered.

After the war the American habit reasserted itself. There never was to be any more war. We refused to be bothered about canal defenses after the guns fell silent.

So it has come to pass that this proud achievement of American engineering, this great military defense and safeguard, is now at the mercy of any first-class Power that might wish to take over this highway between the Atlantic and Pacific as a path of its own to the high roads of its own ambitions. This is, at least, the verdict of the army and navy after the greatest joint sea and land maneuver ever attempted in the New World. It is the considered judgment of 400 officers of both services after four days' critique, following the "war game" at the canal.

PUBLIC UTTERANCES ILLUSTRATE STRIKING SAYINGS

Woodrow Wilson, as a writer of State papers, messages, international communications, and in his addresses, took rank as one of the most noteworthy Presidents the United States ever has produced. Some of the more notable and fateful excerpts from these documents follow:

First Inaugural Address, March 4, 1913—"The great Government we love has too often been made use of for private and selfish purposes, and those who used it had forgotten the people. Our duty is to cleanse—to restore—and humanize every process of our common life."

First Special Message to Congress, April 8, 1913—"I am very glad to verify the impression that the President of the United States is a person and not a mere department—that he is a human being trying to co-operate with other human beings in a common service."

Special Message to Congress, August 27, 1913—"We shall yet prove to the Mexican people that we know how to serve them without first thinking how we shall serve ourselves. We shall triumph as Mexico's friends sooner than we shall triumph as her enemies."

First Annual Message, December 2, 1913—"There is only one possible standard by which to determine controversies between the United States and other nations, and that is compounded of these two elements: Our own honor and our obligations to the peace of the world."

Address Before United States Chamber of Commerce, February 3, 1915—"There are a great many dreadful things about war, but there is one thing about war which has a very splendid side, and that is the consciousness that a whole nation gets that they must act as a unit for a common end. And when peace is as hand-some as war there will be no war."

First Note to Germany on Sinking of Lusitania, May 13, 1915—"The Imperial German Government will not expect the Government of the United States to omit any word or any act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment."

SENTIMENT

If you can see in bloom of tree
A hint of boyhood's happier days,
Or in the gleam of silver stream
Discover long forgotten ways;
If in a boy you glimpse the joy
You owned before you'd earned a cent,
And claim from him some memory dim,
You've still the touch of sentiment.
If you are stirred by call of bird
To search him out on bush or tree,
And make the quest to find his nest,
You're still the boy you used to be.
If in your throat a lump you note
When others face a grief you've known,
If you must share the pain they bear,

Age has not turned your heart to stone.
If when you walk, sometimes your talk
Is not of gold or trade or fame,
But earlier days and happier ways;
When you knew many a flower by name;
If church or school or dimpled pool
Or long deserted barn or mill
Still takes you back o'er memory's track,
You've something cynics cannot kill.
If you will make for friendship's sake
A journey, be it far or near,
A care to lift, by word or gift;
If only once or twice a year
Unselfishly you rise to be
A friend, not counting time or cost
Sit down content—that's sentiment!
The joy which cynics say is lost.

IN TUNE

Music in some form or other is inherent in every human being. Nature is like a huge harp upon whose strings the melodies of the universe play.

And he who is able to draw from the flower of the field, or the color of the sky, or the breath of the wind, the silent notes of joy and beauty that are always there, demonstrates his kinship with the creative mind that has made harmony the keynote of all perfect life.

What a silent song of infinite delicacy in some pictures, in the waving fields of ripened grain, or in the sky tones of a dying day!

No wonder the small boy whistles and the tired worker, unmindful of his lame back or weakened forces, hums a tune on his way home at the close of day.

Whenever we rise to our highest self, or achieve grandly, then it is that music sets its waves to work.

Little "Pippa," in Browning's beautiful poem, spent the hours of her only holiday singing, for she saw nothing but beauty and happiness in the world.

So when you give to an unusual degree, you grow full of music in your heart and everyone about you feels it. You feel in tune—and you are in tune.

Every marvelous strain of music that ever came forth from the strings of an instrument still floats about in the invisible atoms of the air though you cannot hear them. But as you grow more in harmony with all life, you come to feel these intermingling notes as they burst into new sound in the vibrations from some sweet voice or well played instrument.

Music inspires us all to our loftiest attempts.

It is for us to keep these lives of ours in daily tune with the life of the world. The unkind, angry person is always out of tune.

Happiness is harmony. And to be sensitive to music is to be beautiful in heart.

INDIANA LAW IS DECLARED INVALID

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 9.—The Supreme Court of Indiana today upheld the decision of the St. Joseph Superior Court declaring the Indiana automobile license law invalid.

Suit against the act was brought by a South Bend Indiana, motor bus company charging a "rider" transferring the inheritance tax from the state highway fund to the state general fund, made the law unconstitutional.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas.—"Words cannot express how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I would be so nervous I couldn't stay in bed. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and I think I have a right to praise your medicine."—Mrs. J. B. HOLLEMAN, 2214 E. Marshal Street, Greenville, Texas.

For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women from girlhood through middle age.

It is a dependable medicine for troubles common to women. Such symptoms as Mrs. Holleman had are relieved by correcting the cause of the trouble. For sale by druggists everywhere.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

BLAME EXPLODING LANTERN FOR FIRE IN FRAME BARN

An exploding lantern is believed to have caused a fire that destroyed the frame barn at the home of John R. Ballard, 3 Elm St., about 7:55 o'clock Friday evening. Loss on the building and contents is estimated at $700.

Firemen were told that Ballard had gone to the barn with the lantern, preparatory to starting his Ford automobile, but found the machine frozen. He said he left the lantern in the barn and returned to the house for hot water to thaw out the car. Shortly afterward he discovered the building in flames.

DEPUTY REVENUE COLLECTOR WILL AID IN TAX BLANK

C. R. Hopkins, Washington C. H. deputy internal revenue collector for Greene County, will spend practically all of his time from February 20 to March 15 touring Greene County to assist taxpayers make out their returns.

The trip will conform with the annual rule of Charles M. Dean, Cincinnati collector for the First Ohio District, to cover the entire district with deputies during the last days of 1923 before the books close March 15.

Collector Dean is urging taxpayers to file their returns early and if possible mail them to his office now and not wait for the deputies. Blank returns may be procured at his office or at any of the branch offices throughout the district.

Heavy penalties are provided for those who fail to file their returns on time. The dates on which the deputy collector will visit Greene County towns to assist in making out the returns, follow:

Spring Valley at Spring Valley Bank Feb. 20.

Cedarville at the Exchange Bank Feb. 21.

Osborn at the First National Bank Feb. 25.

Bowersville at the Bowersville Bank Feb. 25.

PRESIDENT HOPES TO RESUME U. S. MEXICO RELATIONS

Washington, Feb. 9—President Coolidge is preparing to resume full diplomatic relations with Mexico. Within the next two weeks he is expected to appoint an ambassador to Mexico City and two Americans to represent this government on the two claims commissions, provided for at last summer's "recognition" conference and recently ratified by the Senate of both countries.

Selection of the members of the claims commissions is expected to come first.

In connection with the ambassadorship frequently of late in that of ship—one name that has been mentioned, T. Summerlin, counselor of the American embassy in Mexico City, for seven years and charge d'affaires since 1920. It is argued that a complete accord with Mexico is so important that politics must be sacrificed for ability and that Summerlin, with his intimate knowledge of Mexico, should get the call. Further it is pointed out that Summerlin, with 14 years service in the diplomatic corps, is eligible if President Coolidge adheres to his announced intention of promoting "career men."

As for the commissions, names most prominently mentioned are those of Charles D. Warren and Edward Barton Payne, who recently served on the American commission to investigate the Oregon government just before recognition.

URGE THAT BALLOTS BE RETURNED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

In order to complete the poll on the Bok Peace Plan in Greene County as quickly as possible, clubs and organizations that now have ballots unmarked, are urged to have them marked and returned at once.

The ballots may be returned to Mrs. S. M. McKay, 224 East Second Street, chairman of the education and patriotic committee of Catherine Greene Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, who has charge of the straw vote. They may also be dropped in a ballot box in the office of The Gazette and The Republican or in a similar box at the office of the Home Building and Savings Co.

The survey being made here is part of a nation-wide vote being conducted on the Bok Plan, and is expected to furnish an interesting expression of the voting public on the question of American participation in the League of Nations. A sample ballot was published in yesterday's paper, and this may obtain ballots from Mrs. McKay, Kay or to the Bok Plan Editor, The Gazette and Republican or dropped in either of the ballot boxes.

Clubs wishing to conduct a vote on the plan within their organization may obtain ballots from Mrs. McKay, along with a full or brief text of the prize winning plan.

TWENTY SIX INDICTED IN ALLEGED MAIL ORDER LIQUOR SALE SCHEME

Philadelphia, Feb. 9—Twenty-six indictments against alleged purchasers and vendors of liquor in a "mail-order" distribution scheme said to have been devised by Isaac Bulifant of this city, were returned by the federal grand jury yesterday.

Twenty-seven men were named in the indictments, each of which was charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The indictments are believed to be the first ever returned naming persons as buyers of illegal beverages since passage of the prohibition laws. Each alleged purchaser was indicted on two counts, conviction for which would carry a maximum penalty of four years imprisonment and $20,000 fine.

According to federal officials, the scheme comprised a distribution of liquor in four states through mail orders sent here, the liquor being shipped by railway express by Bulifant and his agents, in some instances being billed as "rubber goods."

Bulifant, who is proprietor of the Novelty Glass Co. this city is named in each of the 26 indictments and the 52 counts. He had already been convicted of the illegal possession of liquor, but is at liberty under bail pending an appeal.

Those named in the indictments as purchasers included William C. Kinnor, Sandusky, Ohio; J. A. Dwyer, Pittsburg, C. A. Howell and H. S. Gray, also known as H. S. Howard, Columbus; John G. Miller, Robert J. Sizer, Luther P. Schaffer and Troy Serpone, Cumberland, Md.; Richard A. Galvin, Port Clinton, Ohio and A. G. Sineer, Berwin, Illinois.

Credit for unearthing the alleged liquor distribution scheme has been given to Sergeant Rodney Shaver, of the state constabulary, who found letters and order books during a raid on one of Bulifant's places last summer. Investigation revealed that circulars and catalogues of all kinds of whiskeys and liquors were used in the plan. Famous brands of liquor, it is alleged, were imitated as to labeling and containers, but the contents invariably were a mixture of colored alcohol and water.

Market News

New York, Feb. 9—In a considerably reduced volume of transactions, the stock market in its short session, displayed firmness today. The market was irregular at the opening but as the session progressed and dealings became active, causing a firm to close.

A feature in the trading was an 18 point rise to 180 in Fisher Body, and a four point gain to 150 and 218 in Corn Products and General Electric respectively.

Leathers, sugars and steels were in better demand, gains ranging from a fraction to over one point. Rails, oils and industrials were steady.

SPECIAL NOTICE

BATTERY CHARGING

We are still charging batteries in from 3 to 8 hours time—same as we have been for the last 15 months, with HOBART CONSTANT POTENTIAL MOTOR GENERATOR.

Constant Potential Charging is not a new thing in Xenia. The following is an exact copy of our ad which appeared in this paper October 20 and 21, 1922.

8-Hour Battery Charging-8 Hour Save Yourself Rental Charges

We are charging batteries in 8 hours with our new Hobart Brothers Constant Potential Charging equipment.

No OVERHEATING or other injury to battery. Each battery charged independently. Each battery receives just the right amount of current at all times. We give the battery a better charge and in a fraction of the time required by the old method.

Leave your battery with us in the morning and get it back fully charged the same day. Or if you are going to be in town all day just store your car in the garage here while we charge your battery.

I have had 11 years experience charging batteries and have used about all kinds of charging equipment; but this new Constant Potential system has them all beat. At first I thought a battery could not be charged up in eight hours, but after a thorough investigation of this Constant Potential System I had to be convinced. I also found that the biggest and oldest battery company in the world is recommending Constant Potential Battery Charging to their service stations. Also the Vesta Battery Corporation, one of the most conservative battery concerns, with a record of over 25 years of successful business back of them have just recently given their approval to Constant Potential Battery Charging.

Some of the firms who are using and recommending the Hobart Brothers Constant Potential Charging equipment in this section of the state are:—

THE BANNER ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

Exide Battery Distributor

109 S. Perry St. Dayton, Ohio.

EAGLE BATTERY & SUPPLY COMPANY

Battery Manufacturers

Burkhart and Garland Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

BECKMAN SERVICE STATION

Spring and Central Ave. Lima, Ohio.

You see Constant Potential Battery Charging is not in the experimental stage but is in practical every day use by many of the most prosperous battery concerns.

Come in and see this wonderful Constant Potential Charging outfit in operation. Let us explain how we charge a battery in 8 hours without overheating or other injury to the battery.

Yours for Better Battery Service,

RED CROSS NEWS

The Parent-Teacher Association of East High School has purchased scales through the Red Cross for the Lincoln School, for use in weighing children, in connection with the school health program.

The much used and badly worn Red Cross Ford has one bright and shiny spot on it. The spot is the insignia of the National Motor Association, a membership in which organization was donated by the Greene County
Automobile Club.

At a recent sewing the women of the Reformed Church, made 12 hospital gowns, and hemmed towels for the Red Cross work.

Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross public health nurse, gave a talk on the prevention of communicable diseases before the teachers of the Yellow Springs School, this week.

CLOCK TELLS RADIO FANS IT'S CUBA

The measured tick-tock of a clock tells local radio fans when they have manipulated their receiving sets to the wave length being broadcasted at Havana, Cuba.

Radio enthusiasts here say the sound of the clock identifies the station for them before they hear the announcer tell it. When there is no speaking the clock can be heard ticking as loudly as if it were in the same room with the hearer.

The clock is near to the microphone and can be heard recording the measured tread of time wherever wireless receiving sets are attuned to that wave length.

HERE'S CHANCE TO LEARN MORSE CODE

Ever wish you could read the code that you hear on your receiving set?
Then tune in on The Palmer School station, at Davenport, at 5:30 Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and learn the trick.

For several weeks the Davenport station has been broadcasting the code lessons and station authorities there say that the interest among the listeners is remarkable, over two thousand requests having been received for copies of the code, which the station is furnishing to those interested.

If you haven't a copy of the code
write to WOC, enclosing a stamp, and a copy will be mailed to you.
The lessons are broadcast by the use of voice and buzzer, thus enabling the beginner to memorize the code characters audibly rather than visually, which is most essential to being able to read at commercial speed.

COLUMBUS HI Y FIVE BEATEN BY EAST HIGH

By L. J. WONES

East High School basketball team at revenge when it trimmed the Columbus Hi Y five at East High gym Friday night, the final score being East 40, Columbus 18.

The game was fast and cleanly played only seven fouls being called during the entire game. Both teams fought with everything they had in ray of basketball but the passwork of Coach Lewis's boys really spelled defeat for the invaders. The locals worked the ball down for closeup shots time after time.

At the start of the game both teams battled on even terms for four minutes and at the end of that time H. Taylor caged the leather twice in succession for the locals. D. Ware was next with a fielder from the side of the court. C. Taylor made a foul. The visitors could not make any headway in scoring because of East's stiff defense. At the end of first quarter East was leading by a 7 to 0 score.

In the second period East kept up its good work and scored 13 points while the Columbus bunch located the net twice from the field and once from the free throw line. The score at the end of first half was East 10, Columbus 5.

The second half was a repetition of the first except that the visitors broke through the locals' defense several times and scored 13 points while the East outfit added 20 to its total.

The entire East High team played excellent ball but the work of H. Taylor at guard could not be overlooked. This lad played fine at running guard and was high man in scoring with six or a total of 13 points. Baker and baskets and one from the charity line. D. Ware also played well and each had 10 points to his credit. Williams put up a fine game at stationary guard.

Next Friday the East High team will play Oxford High at East High gym.

Lineup and summary:
East High (40) Columbus (18)

EAST SEXTETTE ON SHORT END

The East High girls team lost their first game of the season at East High gym Friday night to Wilberforce girls by a 24 to 12 score.

The Wilberforce girls exhibited some nifty passwork which coupled with the basket shooting of Watson and Williams was a little too much for the locals.

The game was fast all the way but Wilberforce led throughout. The first quarter was close and the locals were on the short end of a 4 to 2 count. The second period saw both sides open up a bit and when they whistled ending the half the score was Wilberforce 14 East 8.

In the second half Wilberforce piled up point after point while the East outfit had to be content with one field goal and two fouls.

Watson and Williams starred for the winners. Watson tossed in four fielders and one foul while Williams caged the pill three times.

The lineup and summary:
East (12) Wilberforce (24)
Ward.....RF.....Watson

CENTRAL GIRLS TO MAKE DEBUT

A brand-new basketball team will take the floor at Central High Gym next week in a preliminary to the Central High Urbana set-to.

The new team is Central High's first girls team, which is now being coached and prepared for its debut by Coach A. J. Black of the Central Junior High five.

So rapidly has interest in girls' basketball increased at the local school, that there are enough players for three or four squads fighting for positions on the first team. The girls will play Cedarville High school girls and a lineup will be announced later.

MOTHER OF SIX ON TRIAL AS MURDERESS.

Mrs. Filomena Lombardi and children.

Above is pictured Mrs. Filomena Lombardi, with her six children. She is now on trial at White Plains, N. Y., on a charge of first degree murder for killing Vincenzo Costa, whose family had charged her with putting the "evil eye" on him, a charge she said would make her a social outcast. She is here shown in the jail kissing Violet, aged 4, and holding Clara, 17 months old, on her lap. The others are Anthony, 14; Victoria, 11; Tessa, 12, and Gabelle, 9.

BEAVER FIVES WIN TWO GAMES FRIDAY NIGHT

Beaver Creek High won a double-header at Beaver Friday night, the first string aggregation defeating Caesar Creek 17 to 10 in a loop contest while the freshman five defeated Central Junior High of Xenia 14 to 13 in the preliminary.

Beaver assumed an early lead against the Caesar Creek tossers registering a 10 to 3 lead at the half way station. Routzong at guard starred on offense for Coach Collins' tossers, contributing four fielders and a foul while Coy sparked on the defense. Murphy and Faulkner played best for Caesar Creek. Lineup and summary:

Beaver (17) Caesar Creek (10)
Cyphers.....RF.....Faulkner
Mirandy.....LF.....Coy
Coy.....C.....M. Middleton
Routzong.....RG.....Peele

The defeat registered by the Beaver yearlings over Coach Black's charges was the second defeat in as many days for the Xenia team and also its second loss of the season. Merriman starred for Beaver and Stronbridge sparked for the Central five. The score was 12 to 5 at the end of the first half, the Central tossers outplaying the freshmen in the second period. Lineup and summary:

Beavers (14) Juniors (13)
Hildebrand.....LF.....Morton

Everything For Everybody

It's a sweeping phrase, yet not too broad to be applied to The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican's A-B-C Classified Section.

Each day brings its assortment of offers to these classified columns. In the course of a year these offers swell in volume until they literally include everything for everybody.

There are offers for the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker—and offers from the same men.

And what is equally important, these offers are all alphabetically indexed and numerically classified—thus converting this section into an actual Dictionary of Opportunity.

Everything for everybody!

A sweeping statement indeed—but it cleans up the case for our Classified Section!

WARRANT OUT FOR MAN SAID TO HAVE ISSUED BAD CHECKS

Sheriff Morris Sharp sent a warrant to Springfield, Saturday, for E. G. Hendryx, of Columbus, arrested there on a charge of floating bad checks and wanted her on a similar charge.

Hendryx was taken into custody by Detective N. J. Fisher, of Springfield. He is said to have issued four checks drawn on the Ladona National Bank, of Springfield, totalling $59.77, while not having funds in the bank to cover the checks.

A representative of a Dayton furniture house was also in Springfield Friday making inquiries concerning Hendryx relative to orders said to have been taken by him for furniture, which were said to be without authority of the Dayton firm.

Hendryx is wanted here for passing five checks said to be worthless, four of which are in the hands of Sheriff Sharp. He is a rug salesman and is said to have visited here frequently making a house-to-house canvass.

When he appeared here the last time, about three weeks ago, authorities say he passed five checks totalling $49.55 without sufficient funds. The checks were cashed as follows: Swigart Bros. garage, $22; Bryant Auto Sales Co., $3.90; Interurban Restaurant, $8.50; Adair Furniture Store, $10.45; Lewis Urschel, Singer Sewing machine agent, $5.

Sheriff Sharp has been advised that Hendryx may settle his financial difficulties in Springfield. In that event he will be released there and re-arrested on the Xenia warrant and brought to this city, the sheriff said.

HARDING MEMORIAL DRIVE IS NEAR END

Greene County people who wish to subscribe to the fund to provide a memorial to the late president, Warren G. Harding, are reminded that a drive is now in progress by Judge H. L. Smith, county chairman.

The campaign will close March 1, and donations to the fund being collected should be in before that time. Subscriptions may be paid to the cashier of any bank in Greene County or may be sent direct to Judge Smith.

For each subscription of one dollar or more, a certificate of membership in the Harding Memorial Association will be issued, according to Judge Smith. No announcement of the fund now on hands has been made.

ATLANTIC CITY MAN TO ADDRESS HOME

The Rev. Robert Elwood, of Atlantic City, New Jersey, minister at the Boardwalk Opera House at that resort, arrived at the O. S. and S. O. Home, here, Friday night, for a week end visit with Superintendent and Mrs. Sylvis Garver. The Rev. Elwood and Mr. Garver are close friends.

He will talk before the pupils of the institution, Saturday night, at chapel services, giving a humorous lecture for the boys and girls.

ORGANIZE CLUB AT O. S. & S. O. HOME

Superintendent and Mrs. Sylvis Garver of the O. S. and S. O. Home have organized a club among the pupils of the institution, who will be discharged in June, and are making plans for interesting club meetings.

The Xenia Ministerial Association has offered co-operation with the club, and various ministers will go to the institution, every Monday night, beginning February 18, and give an address between six and seven o'clock, at the chapel.

ECZEMA ON CHILD'S LIMBS

In Rash. Spread to Body and Face. Cuticura Heals.

"When my little girl was only three weeks old eczema broke out on her limbs. It started as a rash and was very red. Later it spread to her body and face, and itched and burned so that I had to put mittens on her hands to keep her from scratching. She could not rest or sleep, and cried nearly all the time.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and went for a free sample. It helped her so I purchased more, which completely healed her." (Signed) Mrs. Edith Donoho, R. R. 1, Magnolia, Ill.

Give Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum the care of your skin.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Evil Shepherd

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

For a few months Ledsam disappeared from his usual haunts, his clerk, acting under his instructions, turning down four fine cases offered him. At last he returned with Wilmore and, at dinner the first night of their return, Andrew plunged boldly into the forbidden subject.

They had consumed an excellent dinner. An empty champagne bottle had just been removed, double liqueur brandies had taken its place. Francis, with an air of complete and even exuberant humanity, had lit a huge cigar. The moment seemed propitious.

"Francis," his friend began, "they say at the club that you refused to be briefed in the Chippenham affair."

"Quite true," was the calm reply. "I told Griggs that I wouldn't have anything to do with it."

Wilmore knew then that all was well. Francis' old air of strength and decision had returned. His voice was firm, his eyes were clear and bright. His manner seemed even to invite questioning.

"I think I know why," Wilmore said, "but I should like you to tell me in your own words."

Francis glanced around as though to be sure that they were not overheard. "Because," he replied, dropping his voice a little, but still speaking with great distinctness, "William Bull is a cunning and dangerous criminal whom I should prefer to see hanged."

"It would be a great achievement to get him off," Wilmore persisted. "The evidence is very weak in places."

"I believe that I could get him off," was the confident reply. "That is why I will not touch the brief. I think," Francis continued, "that I have already conveyed it to you indirectly, but here you are in plain words, Andrew. I have made up my mind that I will defend no man in future unless I am convinced of his innocence."

"That means—" "It means practically the end of my career at the bar," Francis admitted. "I realize that absolutely. Fortunately, as you know, I am not dependent upon my earnings, and I have had a wonderful ten years."

"This is all because of the Hilditch affair, I suppose?" "Entirely."

Wilmore was still a little puzzled. "You seem to imagine that you have something on your conscience as regards that business," he said boldly.

"I have," was the calm reply. "Come," Wilmore protested. "I don't quite follow your line of thought. Granted that Hilditch was a desperate criminal whom by the exercise of your special gifts you saved from the law, surely his tragic death balanced the account between you and society?"

"It might have done," Francis admitted. "If he had really committed suicide."

Wilmore was genuinely startled. He looked at his companion curiously. "What the devil do you mean, old chap?" he demanded. "Your own evidence at the inquest was practically conclusive as to that."

"My evidence at the coroner's inquest," he confided, "was a subtly concocted issue of lies. I committed perjury freely. That is the real reason why I've been a little on the nervy side lately, and why I took these few months out of harness."

"Good God!" Wilmore exclaimed, setting down untasted the glass of brandy which he had just raised to his lips.

"I want to finish this matter up," Francis continued calmly, "by making a clean breast of it to you, because from tonight I am starting afresh, with new interests in my life, what will practically amount to a new career."

That is why I preferred not to dine at the club tonight, although I am looking forward to seeing them all again. I wanted instead to have this conversation with you. I lied at the inquest when I said that the relations between Oliver Hilditch and his wife that night seemed perfectly normal. I lied when I said that I knew of no cause for ill-will between them. I lied when I said that I left them on friendly terms. I lied when I said that Oliver Hilditch seemed depressed and nervous. I lied when I said that he expressed the deepest remorse for what he had done. There was every indication that night of the hate which I happen to know existed between the woman and the man. I have not the faintest doubt in my mind but that she murdered him. In my judgment, she was perfectly justified in doing so."

"You see," he continued, argumentatively, "I was morally and actually responsible for the man's being brought back into society. And far worse than that, I was responsible for his being thrust back again upon his wife. Ergo, I was also responsible for what she did that night. The matter seems as plain as a pikestaff to me. I did what I could to stone, rightly or wrongly it doesn't matter, because it is over and done with. There you are, old fellow, now you know what's been making me nervy. I've committed wholesale perjury. I've acted according to my conscience and I think according to justice. The thing has passed, and I'm glad it's off my chest. One more liqueur, Andrew, and if you want to we'll talk about my plans for the future."

The brandy was brought. Wilmore studied his friend curiously, not without some relief. Francis had lost the harassed and nervous appearance upon which his club friends had commented, which had been noticeable, even to a diminishing extent, upon the golf course at Brancaster. He was alert and eager. He had the air of a man upon the threshold of some enterprise dear to his heart.

FARM PROGRESS

SAVINGS SHOWN ON STOCK SHIPMENTS FOR THE YEAR 1923

By shipping livestock with cooperative shipping associations, Ohio farmers in 1923 saved an average of 50 cents a hundredweight, with the savings ranging from 35 cents to $1.50 a hundredweight.

Backing for these figures is found in the December report of the Co-operative Livestock Shipping Companies of Ohio. Summarizing for the year, B. A. Wallace, extension specialist in marketing at the Ohio State University, adds:

These companies in 1923 increased the percentage of stock handled to slightly more than a fourth of the hogs and sheep and 10 per cent of the cattle shipped from their respective counties. The total volume of stock handled increased from 12,800,000 pounds a month in 1922 to 13,600,000 pounds a month in 1923, an increase of about 7 1/2 percent.

Shrink on hogs fell from about 2.8 pounds to 2.61 pounds a cwt., a decline of about 1 1/2 cents a cwt. in marketing costs. Losses paid from the insurance fund on stock crippled or killed in transit were 3.1 cents a cwt. in 1922 and 2.25 cents a cwt. in 1923 a decline of 27 percent.

While the cost of handling the stock rose from 67.6 cents a cwt. in 1922 to 69.15 cents a cwt. in 1923, or about 2 1/2 percent, the savings on shrink and losses more than paid this increase. Also, says Mr. Wallace, the added expense was not due to lowered efficiency but chiefly because associations shipped to more distant markets for better prices, or paid more money for better managers.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITH-OUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
